

HOUSE OF COMMONS
CANADA

Separatists

Mr. Speaker,

I first ran for a seat in the House of Commons to stand up for Canada and fight for national unity. However, the separatist contract signed by the Opposition parties this week threatens to wipe out all the progress we have made on the Canadian unity issue.

Yesterday Jacques Parizeau, a prominent leader of the separatist movement, endorsed the backroom deal between the Liberals and separatists.

But let me read you what Jacques Parizeau said a few years ago: "The image projected needs to be one of a weak, disoriented federal government, which will be even more so in the future. That is perfect."

Y'know, he's right about one thing – this separatist contract would weaken Canada's economy, would weaken Canada's democracy, and put the unity of our country in the hands of separatists. Mr. Speaker, the actions of the Liberal separatist coalition have real consequences for all of Canada.

When will the Liberals wake up and do what's right?!
